Dear Mr. Greenwood,

Thank you very much for your kind email. There are two stables that we can recommend for raising your filly. These are both companies that are specialised in raising young horses.

One is the stables of Mr. Wim ten Pas: please find the information at:
www.wimtenpas.nl

The other one is fam. Schröder in Lattrop: please find the information about them at: www.stalhofstee.nl

Another option is to find a good coloured stallion and have his semen frozen and exported to the usa.

Yours sincerely,
Jeannette Benedict-Nijhof.

Onderwerp: Raising of Johnson Filly

Mrs. Jeanette Nijhof,

We are very excited about our 2014 filly sired by Johnson out of a Lord Sinclair mare. We are interested in exploring opportunities to export the filly to the Netherlands for raising until being bred as a three year old to a KWPN stallion. We would like her bred to a KWPN stallion to eventually produce a stallion candidate that we can bring home and stand in the US after passing the stallion testing. I realize this is a lofty goal, but so was getting Johnson to the WEG. We don't achieve goals we don't set. There simply are no quality pinto stallions in the US. As much as I respect Samber, I believe we can do better. Americans do not try to do better; they simply breed for color because it sells. I breed for quality and that is how we found you. Your assistance in finding someone who can raise our 2014 filly by Johnson would be appreciated. Congratulations on Johnson's performance and I look forward to 2016 Olympics.

Warm regards,

Arthur Greenwood, MD
